

Presidential Bee Behind Hall Probe

position in the matter mentioned by Mr. Axelrod."

Dowden, who is president of the Young Men's Republican Club of Hudson county, says in his statement:—

"The public is gradually awakening to the fact that politics was a contributing force in the Hall-Mills case. In New Jersey speculation is rife as to what political office Simpson was being groomed for.

Hague Ambitious

"To the uninitiated it is difficult to understand how a trial of such a nature could be significant politically. But to the close observer, or the student of politics, it is evident that no mere gubernatorial nomination was the prize, and Simpson does not figure in this picture. Mayor Hague is too keen and shrewd a political leader to think that he could put Simpson over in a state campaign.

"The prize was the presidential nomination.

"Mayor Hague, who is the leader of the Democratic organization, has built such a strong organization in Hudson county that he dominates the politics of the state. Both parties are subservient to his sway and his will is supreme. He is affluent and is a man of unlimited ambition. Like Alexander the Great, he seeks more worlds to conquer.

Strange Coincidences

"There will probably be a deadlock between the Smith and McAdoo forces at the next convention which will eliminate both men as candidates. If a conviction had been found in the Hall case, Hague would then be in a position to submit the name of Gov. Moore as a candidate.

"The Hall case has been the medium of making the governor known throughout the United States and a conviction would have been the means of picturing him as the champion of law and order.

"The annulment case which was instituted and used as a basis of urging the reopening was instituted for Hudson county. The special prosecutor, all of the detectives, or those who are basking in the sunlight of publicity, are from Hudson county. Even the editor of the paper which vociferously demanded the investigation and reopening of the Hall case is from Hudson county.

"Is it a coincidence or a pre-conceived plan that everything should center about the stronghold of the Hague Democracy?"
